The author captivates with a prose that embraces the reader. It is the vignette of an excited youth with an unusual challenge, stunned because it discovers unexpected sensations. It describes the nostalgia of humidity, the impossibility of utopia. Between duty and pleasure, pain and illusion, the devouring prejudices, writing of impossibility; it becomes the voice of amazement and modesty, of disappointment and falsehood. It is the manifesto of defeat, the void of dignity without reward that identifies a generation.

Detailed investigation of the system of Rafael Leónidas Trujillo Molina (San Cristóbal, 1891 - Santo Domingo, 1961) and his dominance over the citizenship that built the tyranny of the dictator who trampled the Dominican people from 1930 to 1961. The play tells how the dictator built his almost absolute dominance over the lives of Dominicans for more than 30 years.
228. Ramos, Emelda. AÍDA CARTAGENA, HILMA CONTRERAS Y JUAN BOSCH, AL AGUAFUERTE. Dominican Republic: Santuario, 2019. 2nd ed. ISBN: 9781234567897. iii, 47p., wrps. Paperback. New. (187031) $12.50
A chronicle of three emblematic figures such as Aida Cartagena, Hilma Contreras and Juan Bosch, Ramos' book, runs with entomologist precision by the radiography of a society thirty years ago; the Dominican narrative of the 80s. Emelda works with good humor and with the thoroughness of an etching artist. This work synthesizes with exact pulse a time of vertigo.
229. Ramos, Emelda. LOS OCULTOS OFICIOS Y PLACERES DE MIRALVALLE. Santo Domingo: Editorial Santuario, 2020. Third edition. ISBN: 9789945617511. 117p., wrps. Paperback. New. (189402) $22.50
